-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Clark (US Patent 5,954,747). Clark discloses a hollow guide sleeve (54) that is capable of having a suture pass through it, further having both a proximal and distal end and a front annular face (55). The front annular face has a single pointed tip (see Fig. 3, distal to item 55) that is fixed relative to the annular face. Clark may also be considered to have a shoulder, at least in the juncture of where the pointed top meets the rest of the annular face. The rest of the face, juncture aside, is considered at least substantially planar and which is also approximately perpendicular to a longitudinal axis of the longitudinal body. The front point is also considered at least substantially arc-shaped, and Clark teaches at least some kind of anchor rotator tool (see 50-61 in Fig. 8) capable of deploying and rotating an anchor out of the pointed, annular end.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/28/2008 with respect to claims previously presented 1-31 have been considered but are not persuasive. Clark has a front annular face as noted above and further has a portion that is a shoulder. The shoulder is formed between said distally projecting single point and a remaining part of said front annular face. In the drawing below, note the shoulder location is between the distal tip and the front annular face. It is also noted in regard to applicant's comments regarding the bevel, shoulder, and point, it is noted that the bevel is defined as something that does not form a right angle with any adjacent surfaces. The intersecting lines in the drawing below meet at the point. The lines meet slightly above the point in the drawing. In this regard, they create an angle that is not 90 degrees and form a point.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
